FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

2006 Mendenhall State Game Refuge Waterfowl Hunting Permit Information Update

Waterfowl hunting permits for the 2006 season are now available only through the Internet or at the Wildlife Conservation office in Douglas. The Internet address to access the waterfowl permit site is <http://hunt.alaska.gov>, click on the online registration permits link located on the right side of the page. On the next page select apply for permit after reading the online issuing requirements; then select hunt number WU001 for the Mendenhall Wetlands State Game Refuge waterfowl hunting permit. There is a short quiz required after viewing the education material; you must pass the quiz in order to receive your permit.

Another very important change to this years permit concerns the area near the Mendenhall Peninsula; in order to waterfowl hunt in the area between the west bank of the Mendenhall River and Engineers Cutoff and Mendenhall Peninsula Road, hunters must come to the Douglas wildlife office to receive additional education material and to register to hunt in the area. After receiving the additional material a permanent stamp will be affixed to the individuals permit, this stamp is required to hunt in the Mendenhall Peninsula area.

Those with questions can contact the Douglas Area Wildlife Office of the Alaska Department of Fish & Game @ 465-4265.
